THE DROUGHT

In a country 3,000 miles long and from 1,000 to 2,000 miles wide there is nece-sarily much diversity of soil and climate. The universal failure of crops in such an extensive region is a most improbable event. Certainly such an occurrence has never happened in the United States. The drought which has been prevailing in certain localities will diminish the yield of some national staples, but its effect upon the aggregate products of the whole country this year will not be nearly as great as those immediately affected may feel disposed to believe. The burning heat which has of late afflicted the central portion of the Mississippi Valley has not caused injury elsewhere, and it will be found, when the annual report of the entire above make rip, we will have them repaired free of charge. agricultural yield is published, that the aggregate will not fall much, if any, below that of other years.

RECORD OF DROUTHS.

An interesting record is that of revere drouths, as far back as the landing of the Pilgrims. How many thousand times are observations made like the following "Such a cold season!" "Such a hot season!" "Such dry weather!" or "Such wet weather!" "Such high winds or calm!" etc. Read the following list showing the number of days without rain: In the summer of 1621, 24 days. In the summer of 1630, 41 days. In the summer of 1657, 75 days. In the summer of 1662, 80 days. In the summer of 1674, 45 days. In the summer of 1688, 81 days. In the summer of 1694, 52 days. In the summer of 1705, 40 days. In the summer of 1728, 61 days. In the summer of 1730, 92 days. In the summer of 1741, 72 days. In the summer of 1749, 108 days. In the summer of 1755, 42 days. In the summer of 1762, 128 days.

In the summer of 1773, 80 days. In the summer of 1791, 82 days. In the summer of 1812, 28 days. In the summer of 1855, 24 days. In the summer of 1871, 42 days. In the summer of 1875, 26 days, In the summer of 1876, 26 days.

It will be seen that the longest drouth that ever occurred in America was in the summer of 1762. No rain fell from the first of May to the first of September. Many of the inhabitants sent to England for hay and grain.

PROHIBITION SOUTH AND WEST.

[From the N. Y. Herald.] The Prohibition movement in North Carolina has received a severe set back, its ticket having been defeated by over forty thousand majority. Whether it will ever again appear as an issue in the polities of the State must be left to the future to determine. If its advocates and supporters are earnest, sincere men they will, of course, be encouraged to persevere, and the battle will be fought again and again. The curlous thing about this Southern prohibition business is that it appears to be altegether a Democratic idea. In the East and West Republicans are generally the leaders in reform movements of this character, and their support comes from the Republican rank and file. In North Carolina the Republicans oppose prohibition, and in the election just closed, all or nearly all of them, white and black, voted against it. Out West, if it is proper to call Oho West any longer, a temperance party and a prohibition party have turned up to bewilder the politicians, more especially the Republicans whose votes they are likely to draw off. It is the uncertain element in the campaign, and, it is not impossible, may decide the result.

The Nodaway Democrat says: Last Sunday Sheriff Toel boarded the cars at Maryville, having in charge Miss May Howard, whom he was taking to Jefferson City, she having been sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary for larceny. eled many miles when a young man with more brass than brains took particular pains to pay Miss May great attention. He talked and laughed with her, bought her books, newspapers, oranges, apples, peanuts, candy, and in short, every thing nice that could be purchased on the train, for he was badly smitten with Miss May. Matters had progressed so with the couple that May had her head resting on the young man's shoulder, and they seemed "two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one," when Sheriff Toel interrupted their dream of love by saying, "Well, May, we are nearly there." "Nearly where?" asked the young man, "this young lady is going to St. Louis." "Is she?" said Steriff Toel, "well, perhaps she is, but she will first have to serve out two years in the penitentiary."

COL. L. T. FOSTER.

Youngstown, Ohio, May 10, 1880.

Du. B. J. Kendall, Co., Gents:—I had a very valuable finmiticionion coit which I prized very highly, he had a very large bone spavin on one joint and a small one on the other which maste him very iame. I had him under the charge of two veterinary surgeons, who failed to exer him. I was one day reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure in the Chicago Express, I determined at once to try II, and gof our druggless here to send for II. They, ordered three bottless! I took them all and thought I would give it a thorough trial, I used it according to directions and the fourth day the colt ceased to be laine, and the fourth day the colt ceased to be laine, and the lamps have disappeared. I used but one bottle and the cotts limbs are as free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the State. He is entirely eared. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles, who are now using it.
